5 Rail Unions Join to Upset Federal Ruling

WASHINGTON (AP) — Five rail unions banded together today for a legal attempt to upset a federal arbitration ruling and the emergency law Congress passed to avert a nationwide strike.

The unions said that, under the arbitration decision to eliminate thousands of jobs, "the railroad corporation would make a handsome profit at the expense of their employees' freedom."

In a joint statement, the chiefs of the five train operating unions said a suit challenging last Tuesday's arbitration ruling will be filed in federal court here Friday.

They also authorized their attorneys to file another suit attacking the constitutionality of last August's emergency law under which the arbitration ruling was made.

Friday is the deadline under the law for challenging the arbitration ruling. There is no deadline for filing the unions' court challenge of the law, and no date was set.

The planned legal action added a few more knots to the snarled, four-year-old work rules dispute that has so far defied settlement efforts under the Railway Labor Act, the Labor Department, a special presidential emergency board and Congress.

Nearly 200 railroads are involved.

The unions refuse to accept last week's ruling of the arbitration board to eliminate slowly 90 per cent of some 32,000 firemen's jobs, and to give the National Mediation Board power to impose binding decisions on the size of train crews if the parties can't settle that issue on a local basis.

The ruling on the firemen's issue guaranteed job protection for most of the 40,000 men involved.

Seven Hurt In Road Mishaps

Most Accidents
Blamed on Weather

Six district persons and a young Pittsburgh truck driver were hurt in area mishaps Monday or early today mostly brought on by foul weather including fog or sub-freezing temperatures that created treacherous road conditions.

In the hospital in fair condition are Mrs. Betty Palmer, 43, of RD 2, Minerva, who suffered a broken right arm, and the truck driver, Charles McFarland, 29, of Pittsburgh, who had a possible concussion and lacerations of the face and scalp.

Others injured but requiring only treatment were:

James R. Flick of RD 1, Berlin Center, lacerations of scalp, arm, leg and cheek.

Donald J. Abels, 32, of Damascus, sprained back and pos-

Robert Lentz Jr., 13, of RD
2, Beloit, lacerations of chest and chin and loss of four front teeth.

Mrs. Palmer, a passenger, was hurt at 11 a.m. Monday when Sharon Palmer, driving north on Bayard Rd., about a mile north of Route 30, slid off the left side of the road and hit a power pole. The woman and girl were taken to Alliance City Hospital.

Patrolman H. N. Waller of the Canfield barracks said Mc-Farland was injured today at 1 a.m. on Route 224, a half mile west of Canfield, when his semi-tractor trailer loaded with heavy steel went off the left side of the road and rolled over. Mc-Farland was rushed to Youngstown South Side Hospital.

Waller said it was foggy and icy in spots when the mishap occurred. The driver, due to his condition, was unable to shed light on the accident and the Patrols investigation is continuing.

Abels and the Lentz youth were hurt Monday at 6:30 p.m. at Westville on Route 62 when Abels struck the rear of a car operated by the boys father, Robert Lentz Sr., 41, of RD 2, Beloit. Lentz was making a left turn, the Patrol said. Abels was cited for failure to stop within the assured clear distance.

Abels and the Lentz boy were treated at Alliance City Hospital and released.

Flick received his injuries today at 12:30 a.m. when his northbound auto went out of control, skidded off the right side of Route 45, two miles south of Ellsworth, and rolled over. He was brought to the Salem Central Clinic where he was treated and released.

Walter H. Thomas, 29, of RD
1, Leetonia, and James E. Mellinger, 24, of MC 1, Salem, were uninjured when their cars collided Monday at 5:35 p.m. on Route 62, about two miles west of Salem. Mellinger was turning left into a private drive at the time Thomas was passing and Mellinger's car was hit on the left side.

Poland Truck Driver Is Killed In Mishap

EASTON, Pa. (AP) — Jack Blackiston, 37, of Poland, Ohio, the driver of a tractor-trailer truck, was killed Monday when his rig stopped suddenly and part of a load of eight-inch steel pipe was driven through the cab.
He suffered a broken neck and back.

Two Terms Expire Next Year 3 Seek Nomination For Commissioner

Two Republicans and a Democrat have announced plans to seek nomination for county commissioner at the May 5 primaries.

Declaring intentions to file are Atty. Donald Elliott of Rogers and Samuel B. Webber of East Liverpool, Republicans, and Frank Wilson of Wellsville, Democrat.

Webber sought the post two years ago. Wilson served one full term as commissioner but was defeated at the general election two years ago.

Two commissioners will be elected at the November, 1964, general election.

Webber served one term as a councilman at East Liverpool and is a member of the County Republican Central Committee.
He is a past president of the East Liverpool Area Mens Republican Club.

Webber is married and has a daughter.

Wilson owns and operates Wilsons Market at Wellsville.

A member of the Columbiana County School Board, Elliott also is a director and past president of the Columbiana County Public Health League. Chairman of the Columbiana County Forests and Parks Council, he serves as vice president of the Ohio Tuberculosis and Health Assn., and is treasurer of the Columbiana County Agriculture Society.

He has been a practicing attorney for 28 years.

The terms of Commissioners
Walter A. Hunston and Galen Greenstein, both Republicans, expire next year. The holdover commissioner is James Boyd, Republican.

Form Civic Association

Guilford To Block Water Use By Salem

Approximately 50 persons attended a meeting at the Guilford Lake Fire Station last evening to oppose Salem's bid to draw water from the lake to bolster its own reservoirs.

Formation of the Guilford Lake Civic Association was decided upon with Charles Gause of the Gause & Richey Farm Supply near Guilford as president; William Schuller of Youngstown, who owns a summer cottage at the lake, vice president and Paul (Jake) Flugan of Red Maple Landing, secretary-treasurer.

Many of those present at the meeting said they do not oppose Salem getting the over - flow water, but others expressed the belief that once the city gets its "foot in the door" it will eventually begin requesting permission to pump water at other times.

Gause told the group that Sa-

Petitions Ask Tighter Law On Strip Mines

By WILLIAM S. VANCE
News Staff Correspondent
COLUMBUS — While admitting he's backing the odds, Sen.
Ed Witmer, D-Canton, vowed to try again today to push a strip mine bill through the Ohio General Assembly.

He got an assist Monday night from Mrs. Alice Gross-niklaus of Wilmet, secretary of the Community Council For Reclamation. She came to Columbus with an armload of petitions bearing names of 23,000 Ohioans who apparently share her opinion that Ohio needs a tighter strip mine law.

Mrs. Grossniklaus dropped off one stack of petitions in Go.
James A. Rhodes' office. She and Witmer distributed the rest to members of the legislature.

Despite the petitions, the odds against Witmer's bill mounted Monday night as word went out that only those bills with administration backing will be considered in this limited session.

And his bill apparently does not have the administration's blessing. Mrs. Grossniklaus says she can't even get in to see Rhodes about strip mine legislation and that the governor "gave me the brush-off" when she tried to discuss it with him recently.

Witmer's bill proposes 20 changes in the existing law. Included are provisions to increase from $200 to $500 per acre the bond requirement for strip mine operators, make property owners and strippers jointly liable for violations and require operators to restore stripped land to usable condition.

Johnson To Get Findings This Week

FBI Report To Indicate Oswald Was Lone, Unassisted Assassin

WASHINGTON (AP)—An exhaustive FBI report nearly ready for the White House will indicate that Lee Harvey Oswald was the lone and unaided assassin of President Kennedy, government sources said today.

The report will go to President Johnson this week, it was predicted, and Johnson will forward it promptly to the seven-member investigating commission he named Friday.

Members of the commission, headed by Chief Justice Earl Warren, awaited a call from Warren to hold their first meeting and organize the machinery for an inquiry which apparently has no precedent in American history.

Whether the FBI report would be made public before the Warren commission begins its study apparently was undecided.

Various government sources said the FBI report, incorporating the findings of the Secret Service and at least a half-dozen other federal agencies, would indicate that:

'Blitz' Program Is Drafted by Ohio Assembly

Lawmakers Hope
To Complete Money
Session In Week

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Legislature has its work cut out for it—all laid out, according to plan, as it met Monday in an unusual session.

The legislature is meeting to make the first moves in distribution of $250 million which will be realized from sale of bonds for education, and other facilities authorized by the voters last month.

Lawmakers also are scheduled to ask the voters to approve a $500-million bond issue next May for a speedup in highway construction.

After adoption of a series of resolutions in connection with the assassination of President John F. Kennedy, the legislative leadership laid down the entire program it hopes to accomplish this week in a blitz session.

The session was set up last July when the legislature ended its regular session. This early-winter meeting was scheduled to take up only the legislation needed to permit the state to issue the first series of bonds which voters approved Nov. 5.

The first chink in that solid legislative dike appeared when firm administration support continued for a measure to commit Ohio to participation in the federal program of Aid to Dependent Children of the Unemployed (ADCU).

Three Republicans — Reps.
James D. Hapner, R-Highland;
Robert C. Carpenter, R-Seneca, and Robert E. Netzel, R - Miami—tried to block introduction of ADCU, but failed.

In two previous sessions, legislation was offered to permit Ohio to join 17 other states in participating in the program designed to ease the poor relief burden of metropolitan areas, but it has gone nowhere.

No one appears willing to hazard a guess as to the amount Ohio has forfeited as a result of its refusal to participate in ADCU.

Minority Democrats apparently are resigned to the Republican program unless they feel

Fugitive Sought In Arkansas

Dinsio Companion
On Top Ten List

CLEVELAND (AP)—The FBI says a 37-year-old Cleveland man on its list of "Ten Most Wanted Fugitives" may be in the Little Rock, Ark., area.

The fugitive, Alfred Oponowicz, fled from a courtroom here while awaiting trial. He also is wanted for questioning in the slaying of a vending machine company owner in Pittsburgh, Pa. He was added to the "Most Wanted" list last week.

Roy K. Moore, head of the Little Rock FBI said Monday night that two persons in Benton, 20 miles west of Little Rock, had picked out a picture of Oponowicz as the man who gave them fraudulent checks last week. He said the checks have been sent to the FBI office in Washington for checking with the fugitive's handwriting.

Earlier Monday, E. E. Hargett, head of the Cleveland FBI office, said Oponowicz was being sought as one of two men who

Will Serve LBJ As He Did Brother

Bob Kennedy To Continue On Job

WASHINGTON (AP) — What does the future hold for Robert Francis Kennedy, brother and No. 1 adviser to a president now dead at an assassin's hand?

The word today is that the 38-year-old attorney general — whom millions of television viewers saw constantly by the heroic widow's side — will be back soon from a brief rest in Florida, and that he is:

Ready to support the new President, Lyndon B. Johnson, as fully as Johnson supported John F. Kennedy.

Though he has spoken no public word on his plans he is expected to carry on.

He would not, of course, if Johnson wanted another man.
But Johnson has asked all Cabinet members to stay. Anyway, those knowledgeable of the national scene would consider it unthinkable for Johnson to let Kennedy go.

For one thing, much of the Kennedy mantle has fallen on the oldest surviving brother. To many Negroes, for example, Robert Kennedy is a knightly crusader for their civil rights, though by the same token some Negro leaders have felt he did not push hard enough.

There has been talk—it is too early to tell whether it has substance—that Johnson might ask him to join the ticket next year as vice presidential nominee.

Will Run For Offices
As for the long-term future, his friends and wife Ethel are convinced that at some time he will run for public office. For the Kennedys have been and are competitive men, public men intent on affairs of state.

Leoni Winner In Venezuela

Red Terrorism
Defied By Voters

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)— Raul Leoni, soft-spoken former labor lawyer pledged to carry on President Romulo Betancourt's opposition to Fidel Castro, won a smashing victory today in Venezuela's presidential elect.

Leoni, Betancourt's candidate, led his nearest rival in the seven-man race by more than 200-000 votes, according to unofficial tabulations based on 70 per cent of the vote.

Defying threats, bullets and bombs from Communist terrorists, 95 per cent of Venezuela's eligible voters balloted Sunday.

Violence subsided in Caracas Monday. There was no sign of the outlawed pro-Castro Armed Forces for National Liberation (FALN), whose campaign of terror had resulted in an almost daily loss of life for months.

In second place in the presidential race was Rafael Caldera, a Social Christian member of Betancourt's government coalition. Unofficial returns today showed: Leoni, 692,206; Caldera, 470,174.

This could include information in the hands of Texas authorities. The state's attorney general, Waggoner Carr, has offered full cooperation with the Warren probe.

In Dallas, Carr said Monday the state inquiry will be delayed until the FBI reports, and in any case will not start before

President Calls Top Democrats To Conference

Johnson Seeks to Hold '65 Budget
Under $100 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson outlines for Democratic congressional leaders today a personal economy-in-government program he hopes will boost chances for an early tax cut.

The economy drive, which Johnson has been accelerating day by day, represents the first major policy move to bear the personal stamp of the new President. All other programs endorsed by Johnson during his first 11 days in office originated with the late President Kennedy.

Johnson summoned seven Democratic leaders of the Senate and House to a Cabinet Room conference representing a resumption of Tuesday morning sessions initiated by Kennedy.

The congressional delegation, led by House Speaker John W.
McCormack of Massachusetts and Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana, was the same group that met regularly with Kennedy—with one exception. Added was Sen.
Carl Hayden of Arizona, president pro tem of the Senate.

Johnson pressed ahead with his economy drive Monday by taking a series of steps aimed at eliminating waste and over-staffing in federal agencies and holding down the federal budget he will send to Congress next month.

Locksmith Freed On Technicality

LISBON — A legal technicality yesterday unlocked the doors for William Garret VanZee, 24, a San Anselmo, Calif., lock-smith who had been indicted by the Columbiana County grand jury on a charge of possession of burglary tools.

He was arrested here Oct. 31, 1962, and indicted last January, along with an alleged companion, Wayne Russell Redmond, 31, of Santa Clara, Calif., who is now serving time in the California state penitentiary.

Counsel for VanZee pointed out that Prosecutor G. William Brokaw had failed to file a bill of particulars in the case, as requested by defense attorneys in December of '62.

In the bill of particulars just filed, the prosecution charged VanZee with "having possession of tools with the intent to steal automobiles."

There is no such charge under Ohio statutes and VanZee's counsel yesterday filed a de-murrer to halt the court proceedings. After almost day-long conferences between the prosecutor's office and defense attorneys, Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp sustained the de-murrer and VanZee, who was scheduled to go on trial Mon-

Testimony Continues

In Arrest Suit

Testimony continued today in common pleas court in Lisbon in a $75,000 unlawful arrest suit filed by Milton Schulman of University Heights as the aftermath of his arrest Sept. 5, 1954.

He asks $50,000 compensatory and $25,000 punitive damages.

The defendants are George Bodirnea Jr., 530 S. Broadway; Felix Butch, Lisbon; and State Patrolman Thomas Davis, formerly stationed in Salem but now on Ohio turnpike duty.

Schulman charges he was cited by Davis after Bodirnea reported to the Patrol that he was driving recklessly on Route 45, south of Salem.

Taken before Justice of the Peace Felix Butch in Lisbon on a reckless operation charge, Schulman refused to have his case heard by Butch who bound him over to the grand jury.

Schulman was indicted on three traffic violations by the September 1954 grand jury, but on Nov. 10, 1954, he was acquitted on all counts.

Judge Raymond Buzzard is presiding.

LUCKY BREAK

NEW YORK (AP) — Latex foam rubber, widely used today for furniture cushions, pillows and mattresses, was accidentally discovered in 1928 by two English scientists who were trying to make better tires. The scientists were making tire cords by extruding latex rubber into a gelling bath under pressure when the nozzle popped off the extruder.

A ball of latex spurted into the bath and foamed like shaving cream because of the pressure. The men refined the process, patented it and so founded a new industry.

Maag Re-elected By GOP Club

John Maag, an engineer for the E. W. Bliss Co., was re-elected president of the Salem Area Young Republican Club at its meeting Monday night at the Lape Hotel.

Others elected were: Bruce Gordon, vice-president; Mary Lindner, secretary; Twing Hixcox, treasurer; and Wayne Darling, Harold Martsof and Dave Pohl, directors.

The scheduled program was canceled in respect for the late President, John F. Kennedy. Next meeting will be Jan. 6 at 8 p.m. at the Lape Hotel.

With Patients

Kimberly Cameron, three-year-old daughter of Ralph Cameron of Homeworth, was treated at Alliance City Hospital at 10:30 a.m. Monday for abrasions of the left hand received when she ran her hand through the washing machine wringer at her home.

Glen McCoy, 21, of RD 1, New Waterford, received fractures of the fingers of the left hand when he hit himself with a hammer while at work at the Sunnyside Coal Co. He was treated at the Alliance hospital at 2:30 p.m. Monday.

GIVEN SUSPENDED FINE

LISBON — Sanders Firestone, 67, of East Liverpool, was given a $5 suspended fine Monday by County Judge James L. MacDonald when he pleaded no contest to a charge of passing traffic in a hazardous zone. In other State Patrol arrests, Howard B. Shortridge, 23, of Alliance and Norman E. Kelly, 19, of Ronceverte, W. Va., each forfeited a $15 bond when they failed to appear for hearings on charges of speeding.

Elks Honor 7 At Memorial Service

Salem Elks Lodge held memorial services for deceased members Sunday at the Elks Home. Raymond Stiver gave the eulogy, paying tribute to Ralph K. McCarthy, John S. George, Louis S. Hunter, Howard M. Finney, Leonard Crossley, Frank E. Kesselmirre and William J. McKay.

Stiver also paid tribute to the late president, John Fitzgerald Kennedy, who was a member of the Boston Elks lodge. A copy of his eulogy was sent to Mrs. Kennedy.

Rev. Kevin P. Coleman, assistant pastor of St. Paul's Catholic Church, delivered the memorial address. Garry Hasson was soloist, accompanied by Mrs. Walter Hofmeister.

Ceremonies were in charge of Exalted Ruler Joseph Pasco, who was assisted by John Barnes, Herman Linder, Earl E. Miller, Myron Whinnery, John Herman, Jr. and Anthony Brehlin. Arrangements for the service were made by Raymond Stiver, chairman, Russell Loudon, John Herman, Jr., Joseph Pales, Myron Kelly and Herman Linder.

Food Establishments To Renew Licenses

The Columbiana County Health Department sent out letters Monday to all food service operators to fill out and return applications for renewal of their food service licenses before Jan. 1, Harry N. Stockdale, county sanitarian, reports.

Owners are liable to a fine of $10 for each day they operate without a new license after Jan. 1.

New employees are required to furnish cards as evidence of either negative Mantoux test or X-ray examination within a 12-month period prior to employment. The cards are to be kept on file at the food service establishment and be available for examination by the county health department at all times, Stockdale said.

Two hundred licenses were sold by the health department in 1963.

WORKERS LAID OFF

LORAIN, Ohio (AP)—A total of about 400 workers have been laid off at the Lorain works, National Tube Division of U.S. Steel Corp., in the last three weeks, unofficial sources reported Monday night. A company spokesman said there had been a number of layoffs due to a reduction in orders for finished goods.

FINED BY LISBON MAYOR

LISBON — Richard F. Brewer, 28, Negley RD 1, was fined $10 and costs Monday by Mayor Dean Stockman on a charge of hauling a trailer not equipped with brakes. He was cited by the State Highway Patrol on N. Market St.

Stiver to Get Ohio Bell Service Award On Thursday

A Salem man is one of 10 Ohio Bell employees who will be honored for longtime employment at a service anniversary luncheon Thursday at the Akron Sheraton Hotel. All will receive diamond-studded pins in honor of the occasion.

The local telephone veteran is Raymond J. Stiver, plant chief in charge of telephone facilities in Salem and much of Columbiana County. On Dec. 13 he will mark 40 years of service with Ohio Bell.

Presenting Stiver with the award will be Zane E. Barnes, general plant manager for Ohio Bell from Cleveland. Officials from the company's Eastern Division, which includes Salem, also will attend.

Born in Youngstown, Stiver started his telephone career there in 1923 as a cable helper. The following year he was promoted to cable splicer and then to repair foreman in 1941. He came to Salem in 1943 in his present job.

In the past 20 years Stiver has been active in numerous civic and philanthropic activities. A partial list includes past president of the Chamber of Commerce and Rotary, member of the Salem Industrial Development Corporation, chairman of March of Dimes and recently vice chairman of the 1963 United Appeal fund drive.

Stiver and his wife, Doris, live at 1587 E. Third St. They have one daughter, Dawna Mae. Both Mr. and Mrs. Stiver have received community citations as "outstanding citizens."

DiCarlo Fails to Answer Subpoena

YOUNGSTOWN—Joseph (The Wolf) DiCarlo, local and national rackets figure, did not answer a subpoena to appear yesterday before the crime-investigating Mahoning County grand jury.

County Prosecutor Clyde W. Osborne said he will decide whether to ask for a warrant for DiCarlo's arrest after he consults with Common Pleas Judge Sydney Riglhaupt.

DiCarlo was given house service with a subpoena last week when his wife informed a deputy sheriff that her husband was not home.

151 To Take College Entrance Tests

A total of 151 Columbiana County students will take the college entrance examination board tests Saturday at Lisbon High School, according to Cornell P. Monda, the school psychologist, who will be in charge. The college entrance examination will be given in the morning and the achievement test in the afternoon. Students may take one or both.

Assisting Monday will be Principal George Nace; Miss Dorothy Cameron, Latin and English; Gary Pike, counselor; Mrs. Genevieve Sexton, French, history; James Kennedy, music; Norman Brosco, commercial; and Miss Alice Armstrong, girls' physical education.

Santa and the Haunted House

By LUCRECE BEALE

(Chapter One)

Once upon a time, in the Kingdom of Poo there lived three little children named Jeremy, Sissy and Miss Jo.

Jeremy was the most grown up. He was 6. Miss Jo was the baby. She was 4. and Sissy was 5 and in between.

One day, shortly before Christmas, the children were playing alone in their house on Round Hill Road. Their father and mother were away. They were lamp makers and they had gone to a nearby kingdom to sell their wares. They left the children in Jeremy's charge for he was a responsible boy and nearly always knew the right thing to do.

After the parents had gone, Jeremy and the girls played games. They played hide and seek. Sardines. Flipping statues. Follow the leader. Simon says. And so on. They played all the games Jeremy could think of until finally he ran out of ideas.

THEN SISSY SAID, "Now we'll play house. I'll be the mother and you be the father and Miss Jo can be the baby."

"I want to be the mother," said Miss Jo.

"You can't," exclaimed Sissy. "Then who would be the baby?"

"Jeremy can be the baby," Jeremy turned white. "I won't," he declared. He was prepared to do almost anything to entertain his sisters but this was clearly something he could not do.

"But—" began Sissy.

"Never," said Jeremy firmly. "I'm going to be the mother," repeated Miss Jo calmly.

"No—me!" Sissy stamped her foot.

Now both Sissy and Miss Jo burst into tears and poor Jeremy did not know what to do to restore peace in the family. His head whirled with the responsibility of it all.

At this point there was a knock at the front door. Happy to have a distraction Jeremy rushed to open the door.

There was a man standing there, tall and thin, his shoulders dragged down by two large suitcases he carried in his hands. He had soft gray eyes and bushy eyebrows and a sort of sad smiling mouth. He seemed very tired.

THE SUITCASES he carried were filled with books. The cases were broken. The seams were splitting and books were popping out everywhere.

"Who are you?" asked Jeremy, holding his sisters behind his back.

"I am a bookseller," said the man. "Would your parents like to buy some books?"

"My parents are away," said Jeremy politely.

"Oh," The man turned wearily away. "Well, then. I'll be on my way."

"Are they story books?" asked Sissy from behind Jeremy's back.

The man turned back and nodded. "Wonderful stories," he said, his eyes shining. "Stories about everything in the world."

"I LIKE STORIES," whispered Sissy. She poked her head under Jeremy's arm and stared longingly at the cases filled with books.

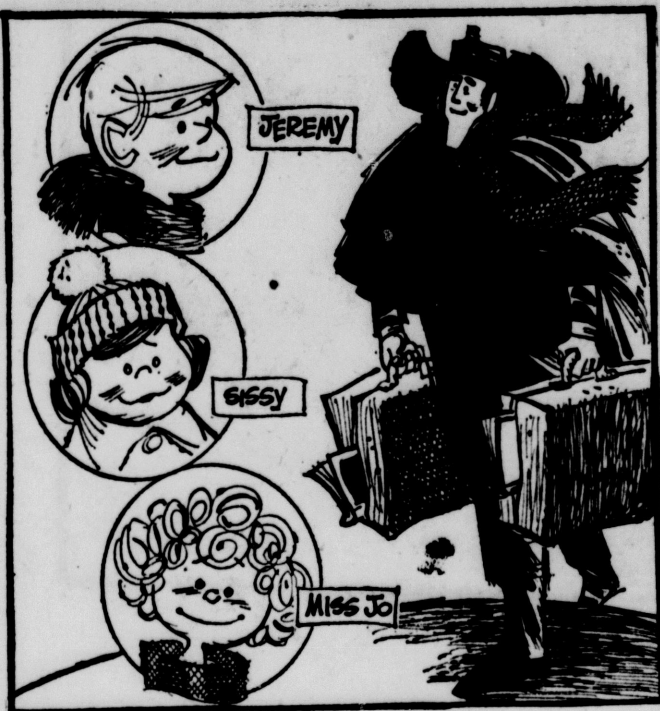

"I wish I had a story," said Miss Jo. She dropped down and peered between Jeremy's knees.

The man smiled—a happy smile now. "Tell you what," he said. "Let me sit down and rest a bit and you shall have a story."

"But you see," said Jeremy, very businesslike. "we have no money. We can't buy a story."

"No need," said the man. "I am not only a book seller. I am a storyteller as well. And the story I tell you will be free."

THE CHILDREN SHOUTED with pleasure. They pulled the

"I am not only a bookseller. I am a storyteller as well."

Storyteller into the house and sat him down before the fire. They pushed his old broken suitcases to the side and sat down at his feet.

"Now, what shall the story be about?" asked the Storyteller.

"Adventures!" cried Jeremy. "And sports. Evil Goblins. Wicked spells and all that!"

"No, no," said Sissy, shaking her golden curls. "About a beautiful Queen and a handsome Prince. About good children. Parties. Travels in the sky and all that!"

Miss Jo waved her hand. "I want a story about Santa Claus," said she.

The Storyteller nodded solemnly at all he heard. He stretched out his legs and closed his eyes. "Very well," he murmured. "the story shall be about all these things."

"A true story!" interrupted Jeremy. Sissy and Miss Jo chimed in, "Yes, yes, a true story!"

The Storyteller nodded. "Of course." He took a deep breath and the story began.

The Two Johnsons

The similarity of name is not the only reason for wondering about that other Johnson who became president of the United States after a presidential assassination.

Andrew Johnson, too, was classified formally as a Southerner. But like Lyndon Johnson, the classification referred more to geography than to a state of mind. Andrew Johnson was not Southern in viewpoint. He was Unionist in sympathy.

Viewed as a Southerner (eastern Tennessee) he was too progressive for ready acceptance by other Southerners. But he could not have been viewed as anything else. He was born and bred in the South.

THIS IS now the position of President Johnson, Southerner born and bred, yet assigned by fate to the political task of bringing the Negro to full citizenship. There is a particularly significant similarity in the political problem now and then.

The never-ending struggle between Congress and the White House sharpened after Lincoln's death, when Southern senators hoped to regain the prestige they sacrificed to the Confederacy and Northern Democrats hoped to join hands with their restored brothers to dominate the national legislature.

President Andrew Johnson was caught between the Democratic hopefuls and Republicans who hadn't the slightest intention of restoring the Confederate states and their senators to their formerly dominant positions. They ground him to political pieces in their feud that has continued to this day.

PRESIDENT Lyndon Johnson is in danger of being pushed into the same grinder. He has pledged himself repeatedly as vice president and now as president to full civil rights for Negroes.

The impact of his leadership in this controversy is expected to be greater than that of the late President Kennedy because of his demonstrated ability to manage legislative affairs.

It is ironic that this was to have been the signal contribution of Andrew Johnson, one-time legislator and state governor.

But it did not save him from the ferocity of the battle between Southern irconcilables and the Northerners tired of legislative domination by one bloc of sovereign states.

Lost In the Shuffle

George Meany, president of AFL-CIO, and Victor Riesel, dean of the country's labor reporters, are in significant agreement.

Both feel that people who say unionism is perishing because it isn't growing in membership as fast as it should are misinformed. Both say unionism is doing better than all right.

Riesel says statistics showing paid AFL-CIO membership are simply not to be trusted because local unions are "allergic" to handing over money from their members' dues to AFL-CIO. There are more members than appear on the books, in other words.

BUT SOMETHING about unionism could perish though unionism survived and flourished. The union movement could lose what it lost in Britain when it became so closely integrated with the Labour party its leaders were transformed into politicians.

Then that began to happen—when labor some of the authenticity went out of their leaders became Labour party leaders—cause. Men who never had done a day's physical work in their lives began to speak in behalf of men with calloused hands.

Theorists took the place of practicalists whenever they could crowd in ahead of them. They waged war against the practical men who knew all about unionism and working people but sometimes knew little or nothing about political unionism, another thing entirely.

IN THE United States, events have tended to follow some 50 years behind similar events in Britain—a little closer in recent years.

The U.S. labor movement already is heavily committed to the course of British unionism, but if skeptics within the movement here want to know what looms ahead they can look at Britain's Labour party and a union movement largely engulfed by the politicians who dominate its affairs. Working people and bread-and-butter causes have been lost in the socialistic shuffle.

By Truman Twill

Memorials

As always happens after a president of the United States dies, everybody now is thinking about a memorial.

John F. Kennedy's name will be attached to things that will do it and his admirers no credit, unless everybody is careful.

You don't paint a man's name on a rock if the idea is to establish a memorial in his honor.

You certainly don't paint his name on a rock that already has a name painted on it. That kind of cuckoo-nest behavior gets a memorial off to a bad start.

THERE ARE basic specifications for a memorial—any memorial.

A memorial should be created for the honor it is intended to show. It should not be borrowed or stolen for the occasion.

It should be built from the ground up. It should be the result of a decision to do something in memory of a great man who needs to be remembered for the benefit of all mankind.

It does not have to be useful. But it needs to be admirable. It should be designed to be in keeping with what it memorializes.

The world-famed Lincoln Memorial in Washington, with its heroic statue of the Emancipator seated in a mood of meditation in a beautiful edifice makes every visitor feel humble and small in the presence of greatness.

The Washington National Monument overwhelms everything in the nation's capital with its 555-foot height, symbolizing the pre-eminence of the American it honors.

The Jefferson Memorial induces reverence for the beauty of its over-all design, the pure simplicity of its structural lines and the unimpeachable logic of the thinking of the man it honors—the Founding Father who swore "eternal hostility against every form of tyranny over the mind of man."

THERE WILL BE a suitable memorial to John F. Kennedy in Washington, a city of monuments and statues.

There should be — there can be — suitable memorials to our most recently martyred president in cities throughout the country.

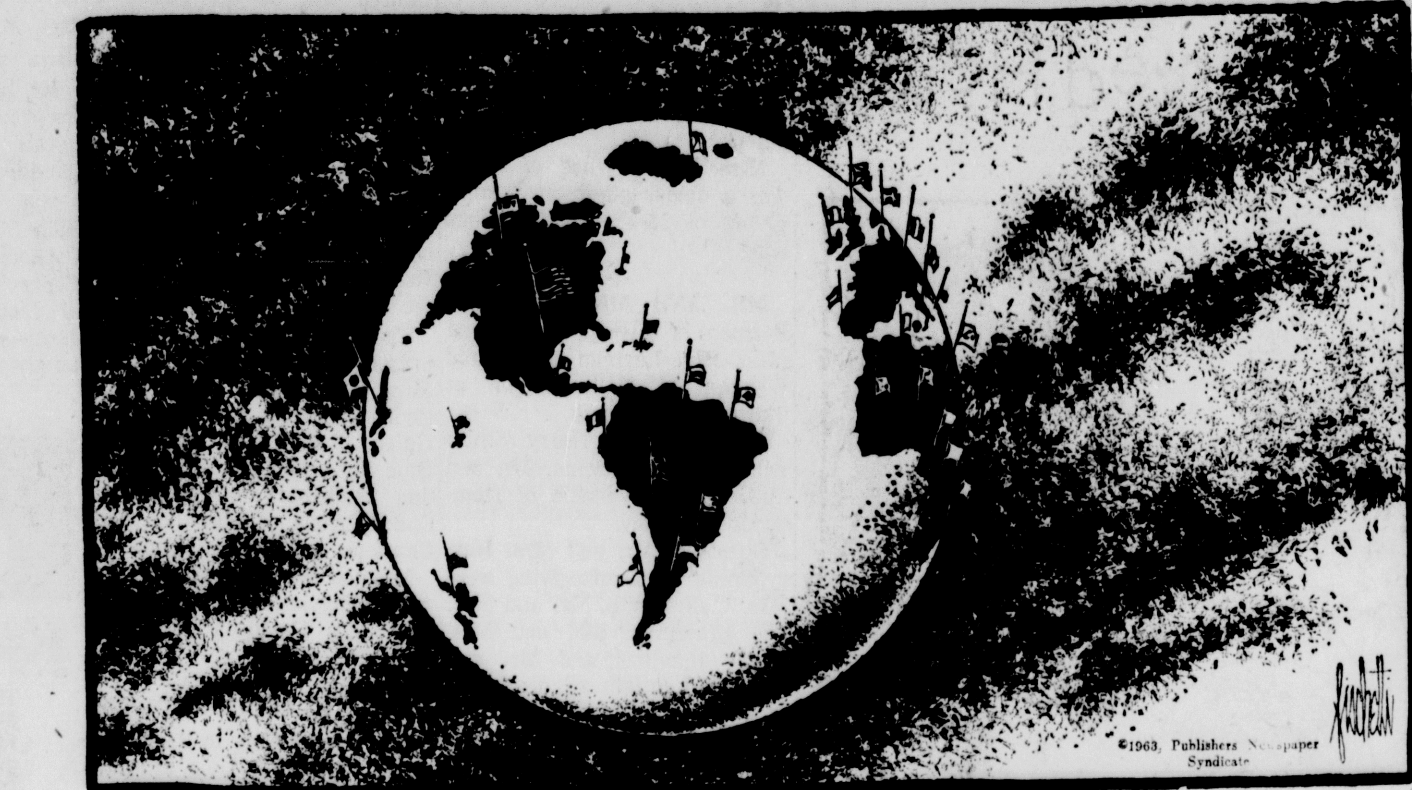

But basic specifications should be followed.

The memorials should be built with the contributions of those who mourn his passing. There should be no nonsense about painting a name on a rock and calling it a memorial. What would it memorialize, except the cheapness of the people who thought of doing it?

If anyone asked me what would be suitable I think it might be a great stone bench—the John F. Kennedy bench. The name would be carved large across the back rest, so all could see it.

And on a bronze plate set in front of the bench, for all to see would be this borrowed from Balzac:

Into the Snake Pit

By VICTOR RIESEL
For days I have been wandering through the life and times of Jack Ruby, indicted for the murder of the accused murderer of John Kennedy. I have traced Ruby, his friends and friends of his friends.

I have been in a snake pit through which have slithered such characters as "Needle-nose" Labriola, Paul Jones, goons from Joe Valachi's Cosa Nostra and killers and con-men out of the Chicago Capone combine.

I have found that Ruby's night spot at one time was a haunt of Chicago hoods who came to Dallas to "case it" for its possible "take." They decided they could take at least $18 million a year out of the city from labor rackets and other operations.

From Dallas they planned to expand the business to cover Oklahoma, Arkansas and Louisiana.

THEIR GALL was matched only by their arrogance and disdain. One of them suggested that to prove their toughness they murder four local gamblers, put their bodies in a car and leave it outside police headquarters. Jones, who was friendly with Ruby now in prison, had broad horizons. One Dallas police lieutenant later told the McClellan committee that Jones had told him that the group planned to unionize every truck driver in the United States.

Jones said: "When we do that, we can bring industry to its knees, and even the government if we have to. . . ."

Jones indicated that his combine through this was the most important area of their activities. The hoods terrorized restaurant operators. They forced some owners to buy meat from them at prices higher than the market. How? By cutting off linen supplies — and workers.

But they reached too far, too hard. Jones tried to bribe a sheriff. He was convicted. "Chicago" became disgusted. The others were recalled. "Needle-nose" wound up with a tight wire around his throat in the back of a car. This interfered with his breathing. And so went "Needle-nose."

But Chicago never held any terror for Jack Ruby. He knew lots of the boys. Back in 1937, Ruby was so cocky that he stepped in where the wise ones are loath to tread.

HERE STARTS a bizarre play cast in the image of ancient Greek tragedy.

Ruby knew a lawyer called

Leon Cook. The former got Cook to lunch and suggested they organize a union in an unorganized area. It was indicated there would be no difficulty getting a federal charter from the old AFL.

(A federal charter is one issued directly by the central office in Washington, not by a national union.) The CIO called these "LIU's"—local Industrial Unions.

They got their charter—Local 20467, Waste Material Handlers Union. Ruby was secretary. He and Cook worked hard. Some-one decided Cook was working too hard and eased his pain with some bullets on Dec. 8, 1939. Ruby stayed on for a while. Then the AFL regional office removed him. Out of nowhere came the new secretary treasurer, Paul "Red" Dorfman, buddy of Jimmy Hoffa.

"Red" Dorfman, an ex-pug had no difficulties for a long while—perhaps some 15 years. Then came the McClellan committee. Its chief counsel, Robert Kennedy, decided to probe this friend and intimate of Jim Hoffa.

To this investigation Kennedy assigned one James McShane. Today he is chief of the federal marshals.

ON JAN. 29, 1959, Kennedy put McShane on the Senate committee witness stand.

Kennedy asked: "Do you have some information that would summarize your investigation, as well as the investigations that have been conducted by other government departments?"

McShane replied: "According to our investigation, Mr. Kennedy, Mr. Paul Dorfman is a major figure in the Chicago underworld. He is an associate of most of the leading gangsters in the Chicago area. He is the contact man between dishonest union leaders and members of the Chicago underworld. . . ."

And then McShane continued: ". . . of Mr. Dorfman's criminal and other associates, there is one Anthony "Tony" Accardo, known as the head of the Chicago mob since the death of Al Capone. Another is Mr. Abraham Teitelbaum, former attorney for the Capone mob. Another is Abner "Longy" Zwillman, one of the top figures in the American underworld. . . ."

"Now there is Mr. John Dioguardia, alias Johnny Dio, a notorious New York gangster in the garment district. . . ."

At the end of 1957, Dorfman was ousted from the waste handlers union by labor's national office. But soon he was organizing for a teamster's local in Chicago.

When last heard from he was in the Palm Springs sunshine. He said he thought Jack Ruby was a "real nice guy."

A Widow's Courage

By DAVID LAWRENCE

The untold story of Jacqueline Kennedy may inspire the poets of tomorrow to write the epic of a tragedy almost unparalleled in history.

Three times in a matter of seconds did death whiz by her — the wife of the President of the United States and the mother of their two little children. Only a few inches spared her the same fate that befell her husband. Instantly he lay prostrate in her lap. She saw the bleeding body — his head injured beyond description and never uncovered again.

As Jacqueline Kennedy went to the hospital in a speeding car, as she waited for the final word of the physicians, as she traveled by plane to Washington and emerged there in the same blood-bespattered dress that she had worn at the moment that changed history, there was no outward sign of the grief which she felt within.

She could have collapsed in tears. She might have sought the solace of solitude. But she exhibited instead the courage of a person who felt an overwhelming sense of duty. She alone could express the wishes of a wife and the nation's first lady.

She began to think of her husband as the fallen President of the United States — as the man to whom the people generally would wish to pay solemn and significant tribute.

She gave to the aides at the White House helpful suggestions. She arranged for the details of the funeral service and the street procession to the church.

JACQUELINE KENNEDY, her eyes straight ahead, walked the half-mile from the White House to St. Matthew's Cathedral as she led the members of the government of the United States and many dignitaries from foreign governments — all of them afoot.

Her face as she stood at the grave at Arlington Cemetery was impassive — shrouded but undaunted. The whole world saw this mastery of self — an example to everybody that she was thinking of the great sacrifice her husband had made to public service.

On the hillside where her husband is buried, she lit a flame which is to burn by day and by night — a symbolic testimonial this time not to an unknown but to a known soldier who also gave his life for his country. She came in the evening a few hours after the funeral and knelt beside the grave, where he wept in the darkness—unobserved by the multitude.

Still in her 30s, Mrs. Kennedy has been in the public eye as a gracious hostess to heads of state, to artists, to poets, to distinguished authors. She has dedicated herself to the arts and to the encouragement of cultural as well as charitable endeavors.

She is fond of horseback riding and water skiing. Yet, despite her many activities, she has never failed as the mother of two little children, ever anxious about their schooling and the overemphasis that could come to them from their conspicuous position in life.

To all the world Jacqueline Kennedy presented last week an image which the London Evening Standard epitomized as "majesty."

People everywhere, hundreds of millions of them, did weep tears and manifest their sympathy.

A TYPICAL LETTER—which came to a Washington friend from a French newspaper woman in Paris, a grandmother who has watched historic events for a long, long time—is quoted here:

"I heard a flash on the radio. Kennedy shot! Badly wounded! It was a terrible shock. I could not believe it. But I hoped the news had been exaggerated. I let the radio stay on, my heart beating rapidly and about 20 minutes later the tragic news reached my ears—he was dead! I cannot tell you the sorrow which was mine. From that moment on, the telephone began to ring. My friends and acquaintances were calling to tell me how shocked, horrified and grieved they were.

"You cannot have any idea of the deepness of the grief that has spread all over this country. Everybody — yes, everybody — shares the pain that has fallen on the United States. Everybody is concerned.

"For me it was a terrible blow. I could not eat, could not sleep, could not work. It was if I had lost somebody very dear to me. And when I say 'I, I should say we — friends, acquaintances, unknown people in the streets. They could not speak of anything else. Never have I seen such a unanimous, general mourning. Words are unable to express the general feeling. How many people have I seen with tears in their eyes!'"

What lessons do such manifestations of human grief teach us? It is that the hearts of peoples everywhere can be united irrespective of geography or nationality.

EVEN AS the world poured out its sympathy, a lonely woman strolled along the sandy shore of Cape Cod last Saturday comforted only by the living memorial at her side — two beautiful children braving the winds and watching the pounding surf.

Jacqueline Kennedy's intimate thoughts these last few days may never be known, but there might have passed through her mind sentiments like those expressed just 200 years ago by George Wither, an English poet, who penned "A Widow's Hymn." It reads in part as follows:

"How near me came the hand of death.
"When at my side he struck my dear,
"And took away the precious breath
"Which quicken'd my beloved peer!"

"Lord! Keep me faithful to the trust "Which my dear spouse reposed in me?
"To him now dead preserve me just
"In all that should performed be!
"For though our being man and wife
"Extendeth only to this life,
"Yet neither life nor death should end
"The being of a faithful friend."

Weight Scales Complaint

In connection with your mayor's proposal to relocate the city's truck weigh-in scales on West State St., I feel compelled to ask the following questions:

1. Who is owner of said lot between Church of God and Shears Laundromat?
2. Would the owner lease it to anyone else for $100 per year for five years?
3. And, will it be a traffic hazard as it was previously at the railroad tracks?

In view of the large amount of traffic on narrow W. State St., I don't think the proposal is in the best interests of highway safety.

Ann Landers Answers

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a Kansas high school teacher who did NOT agree with your reply to the high school student who complained because the rich, well-dressed kids always walk off with the class offices.

I've observed high school elections for several years and he is right. Elections are nothing but popularity contests. Sometimes the popular one also happens to have leadership qualities, but if this is the case, it's only a coincidence.

This year the sophomore class president is a handsome athlete who is so stupid he can't learn the simplest rules of parliamentary procedure. I'm the class adviser and it's a serious problem.

The junior class president is worse. He has big blue eyes, wavy hair, is built like Atlas and doesn't have a brain in his head. The boy is so inept he was unable to make a decent three-minute welcoming speech at the junior-senior prom.

Perhaps in some schools the bright kids are rewarded with the offices, but it doesn't happen here. — CLOSEUP OBSERVER.

Dear Close: Most of the readers who commented agreed with you but I'm sticking by my guns.

I have visited many schools and the schools which have the most attractive and capable student leaders tell me that the reason is this: the administration sets high standards of scholarship and achievement for candidates. Wavy hair and blue eyes aren't enough.

It seems to me in the case you cite, the fault lies with the administration for failing to set up the prerequisites for office seekers.

Prince and Pauper

Dear Ann: I've been married for seven years and I'm still waiting for my first new coat.

For a recent special occasion I borrowed a nice black dress from my sister. My mother and I wear the same size of shoes, so I borrowed her black crepe pumps. If I have to go to a funeral I borrow a hat from my next-door neighbor.

My husband is a nice man in every other way but he has an iron grip on the pursestrings. We have one child and we owe no bills. He makes $10,000 a year. Do you think I'm entitled to a clothes allowance? If so, how much should I ask for?

Please hurry your answer, Ann. There is a big party coming up next week. — CIN-DERELAS DOUBLE.

Dear Cindy: What did you two talk about before you got married? And what have you been talking about for the last seven years?

Every woman whose husband is employed is entitled to an allowance for clothes. In your case I would say about $500 a year is not too much.

Mother of Bride

Dear Ann: I'm 22 and engaged to marry a fellow 24.

Ed and I plan to be married in the spring and the problem is my mother. She wants to run everything. She said when she got married they had a small reception in the back yard an served beer and sandwiches and everybody had a swell time. That was 29 years ago, Ann. My mother doesn't realize times have changed.

I've offered to pay for part of the wedding because I know money is the reason Mom insists on a simple affair. She won't hear of it. She says Ed and I need our money for furniture and other household items.

We would rather have no reception than invite friends to have beer and sandwiches in the back yard. Please advise. — C. W. S.

Dear C. W. S.: Tell your mother you want a simple ceremony and no reception — and stick to it. There's no point in a celebration that would only make you and your fiance unhappy.

"Full-throttle" acceleration tests like this help Shell scientists measure effects of harmful combustion deposits on power. Read below how Super Shell fights these deposits—to help give you power when you need it.

How TCP, one of Super Shell's 9 working ingredients, fights two kinds of engine trouble to give you power when you need it

If car engines could stay clean as new, they'd work fine without Super Shell's TCP.* But combustion deposits start building up the moment your car leaves the showroom—and can soon cut your power and mileage.

Nothing can be done to stop these deposits from forming. But fortunately, something can be done to fight some of the troubles they lead to. And Super Shell's TCP is the ingredient that does it.

How TCP fights pre-ignition

When certain types of combustion chamber deposits get hot enough, they glow—can beat spark plugs to the punch and ignite your fuel before it's supposed to be ignited.

The experts call this pre-ignition. A premature explosion punches the piston on its way up. Two forces meet head on. And your power falls off.

Usually, pre-ignition comes when your engine is working hardest—when you're trying to pass at turnpike speeds, for instance. And just when you need power most, it falls off.

Super Shell's TCP fights pre-ignition by actually altering the chemical nature of combustion deposits. It "fire-proofs" them so they no longer glow. And your chances of pre-ignition go way down.

How TCP fights spark plug misfire

Combustion deposits can also build up on spark plugs and cause spark plug misfire. When engine temperatures go up, these deposits tend to conduct electricity—can actually short-circuit your plugs and take them right out of the act.

Your spark plugs miss—they don't ignite the fuel. And instead of purring smoothly, your engine sputters and falters—loses power and wastes gasoline.

Once again, Super Shell's TCP works by changing the chemical nature of the deposits. It helps keep them from conducting electricity and short-circuiting your spark plugs. Result: Your spark plugs fire the way they should—to help you get power when you need it.

For power when you need it, stop at this clean white Super Shell pump. Super Shell, with nine working ingredients, also helps you get good mileage and a smooth-running engine.

*Trademark for Shell's gasoline additive for ignition control. Gasoline containing TCP is covered by U. S. Patent 2889212.

And that's how Super Shell's TCP works to make your car work better.

Super Shell has 9 working ingredients to make your car work better

But TCP is only one of Super Shell's 9 working ingredients. Here's a brief run-down on the other eight—and what they do to help Super Shell make your car work better.

Anti-knock mix and Alkylate work to fight knock for a quiet engine.

Butane and Pentane mix work to give fast starts and smooth warm-ups.

Gum preventive and anti-icer (added in cold weather) work to keep carburetors clean inside and to help check icing stalls.

Cox-Whisenand Vows Heard In Local Church

Miss Sonna Faye Cox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce William Cox of Wintersville, formerly of Salem, and Neal Edward Whisenand, son of Mrs. Cecil O. Peterman of Wichita, Kan., and the late Jake Whisenand, were married Saturday at a 7:30 p.m. ceremony in the sanctuary of the First Christian Church, with Rev. Harold Deitch officiating at the double ring ceremony.

Mrs. Ruth Berry presided at the organ console.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white gown of peau de soie styled with portrait neckline and appliques of Chantilly lace embellishing the long-sleeved bodice above a flat front skirt with side pleats rich with embroidery giving width. Fullness was lent the back of the skirt from inverted pleats adorned with bow and streamers.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Clem Wolfgang.

Mr. Wolfgang served as best man and ushering were Donald Harsh and Robert Thomas.

A reception in the church Fellowship Hall followed the ceremony.

The bride is a graduate of Salem Senior High School and attended Ohio State University and Steubenville College of Business.

Mr. Whisenand graduated from Wichita High School and the Northrop Institute of Technology at Inglewood, Calif. He is employed by the Vertol Division of Boeing Aircraft Co. at Morton, Pa.

They will reside at Philadelphia, Pa.

AAUW Hears Speakers At Meeting

Problems of poverty in a wealthy nation and services of local welfare agencies were topics of discussion when 22 members of Salem branch, American Association of University Women, met recently.

Miss Mary Catherine Donahue of the Catholic Charities Bureau was guest speaker and Mrs. Helen Myers was discussion leader.

Mrs. Myers pointed out that tens of millions of Americans are maimed in body and spirit because of poverty in the nation and that two-fifths of the population live in substandard conditions.

Miss Donahue described the services performed by various public and private agencies in this area. "Public agencies have certain absolute rules which they must follow and some families can't qualify for aid from them," she stated.

"The private agency can stretch a little," she further explained. "Many persons have no permanent residency anywhere and, therefore, cannot qualify legally for any welfare relief."

It was shown that, although many families receive surplus commodities each month, these provide an unbalanced diet, leading to health problems unless the family also receives money for other types of food.

Another complicating factor in the lives of the poverty-stricken is the social isolation they suffer which Mrs. Myers described as "totally demoralizing."

Miss Helen Thorp, social chairman, took reservations for the annual Christmas dinner party which will be Dec. 18 at the Lape Hotel. Judy Callaway, exchange student from England, will be speaker.

Changes in the by-laws and the procedure for amendment were explained by Mrs. Richard Cook. Mrs. Louis Mulbach, vice president, presided in the absence of the president, Mrs. Ralph Dressler.

Refreshments were served by a committee headed by Miss Janice Bethel.

100 Couples at Snowball Dance

Styrofoam "snowballs" nestled in beds of pine tips graced the white covered tables surrounding the dance floor at the annual Salem Junior Chamber of Commerce Snowball Dance Saturday evening in the Roman Hall.

Approximately 100 couples danced to the music of Steve Navayovsky and his orchestra who played from a bandstand decorated with red and green panels on a backdrop of white. A quartet of silver Christmas trees at the front of the stage, crepe paper streamers overhead and "snowballs" repeated the theme.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Firestone, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy C. Pool and Duane Kryz were winners of the special prizes.

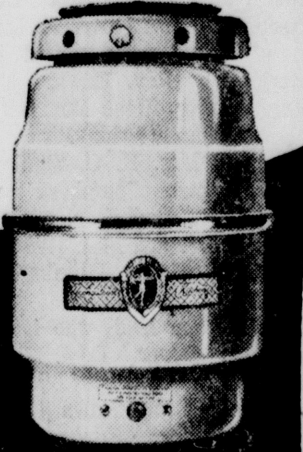

Proceeds from the dance are used for the annual Christmas party for underprivileged children and other projects.

Chairman for the event was Edward Hart, assisted by Edward Bennett, Mark Weber and Kenneth H. Schrom.

Rogers Village To Have Yule Tree Near Hall

ROGERS — Routine business was conducted when Village Council met Monday at the home of Mayor Robert McCreary. Robert Whitacre, a new councilman, was present.

A donation of a Christmas tree was accepted from Park Rinsinger of Negley. The tree will be erected and decorated in front of Community Hall.

Albert Starkey, street commissioner, stated that winter supplies for the village are in good condition.

Councilmen Starkey, Whitacre, William Crawford and Wallace Swaney will make a study of the village Saturday in reference to street signs. They will determine how many signs are needed to mark intersections.

Mayor McCreary spoke briefly about an emergency kit which he had seen demonstrated for use on minor injuries and broken bones. Council agreed to purchase the kit at a cost of $49.95 to be used by the village and fire department.

The mayor turned in forfeitures of appearance bonds for November totaling $46.40. Council authorized payment of bills totaling $1,618.89.

Crawford and Dale Williams, councilman-elect, will be sworn in for terms of six years at the next meeting Jan. 6.

Judge Sharp said he could find no law which possession of burglary tools for doors or ignitions, dies to make keys, with or without intent of burglary of an automobile constitutes a crime in Ohio.

The burglary statute includes house breaking, forcing doors, windows, locks or guildings with goods, ware, merchandise or where money is kept, but does not include automobiles.

When VanZee was apprehended he had picks in his shirt pocket, and other tools were found in defendants luggage and an automobile.

He was taken into custody by state highway patrolmen and Howard Lisk, Bureau of Motor Vehicles inspector, after the Clerk of Courts Carl Stacey's office had issued two Ohio automobile titles to Redmond, who gave his address as a motel south of Lisbon.

The State Patrol was notified and they found VanZee and Redmond. An indictment is pending against Redmond for using false name in obtaining two Ohio auto titles. He now is confined to jail in California and it is expected that his trial will come up when he finishes his time in California.

Farm Bureau Opens Membership Drive

Fifty captains and workers representing each township in Columbiana County attended the Farm Bureau Federation's annual "kick off" meeting Monday evening at Lisbon Village Hall.

Galen Greenisen of Salem RD 2, growth chairman, presided.

Mrs. Evelyn Hoopes of Beloit RD 2, organization director, explained the material to be used for the federation's membership drive which began Monday and will run through Dec. 11.

A contest will be held between the Martins headed by Dawson Irey of Guilford Lake and the McCays headed by Russell Forney of Lisbon.

Don Pollitt, northeastern regional supervisor of the federation, was the speaker.

Captains were instructed to report each day to Mrs. Hoopes.

Lunch was served by the women's committee headed by Mrs. Leland Baker and Mrs. Clarence Motts.

ROUNDTABLE PLANNED

The Shawnee District Boy Scouts of America roundtable will be held Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. at the Joshua Dixon School in Columbiana.

Troop 18 and Pack 69 will be the hosts, according to Kenneth Mugridge, Shawnee District executive.

Deaths Funerals

J. O. McCord

Jennings O. McCord, 56, of Warren died of a heart attack Monday at 1:20 p. m. at his home. He had been in failing health for the past 10 years.

Born Aug. 25, 1907, in Wayne Township, a son of Samuel and Augusta Lewis McCord, he was a crane operator on construction work and was owner-operator of a strip mine at Marion Center, Pa.

A former Salem resident, he was a member of the Gil Gal Presbyterian Church at Marion Center.

He leaves his wife, Ida Marie Brihart McCord of the home; one son, Samuel O. McCord, Marion Center; a sister, Mrs. John Carlton, Niles; a brother, William McCord, Miami, Fla., and four grandchildren.

Services will be held Thursday at 2 p.m. at the Thomas Funeral Home in Marion Center, with burial in Gil Gal Church Cemetery.

Friends may call at the Lane Funeral Home in Mineral Ridge this evening and the Thomas Funeral Home Wednesday evening.

Emmor R. Wilson

LEETONIA — Emmor R. (Max) Wilson, 74, mail carrier here for 37 years, died of complications at 4 p.m. Monday at the Lazy Acres Rest Home in Columbiana following an illness of several years.

Born Feb. 19, 1889, he was the son of Emmor and Esther Davern Wilson. A Leetonia resident 45 years, he was a member of the Leetonia Methodist Church. He was a mail carrier from 1915 to 1952. He also worked as a freight agent on the Pennsylvania Railroad in Leetonia and taught at the Old Furman School in Lisbon. He was 11' last of six children.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. Edith White of Leetonia, Mrs. Hazel Wolfe of Orlando, Fla., and Mrs. Ariel Jean Lee-son of Poland; one son, Donald of Huron; eight grandchildren; and five great-grandchildren. One daughter preceded in death.

Services will be at 2 p.m. Thursday at the Woods Funeral Home with Rev. Albert Oakes of the Methodist Church officiating. Burial will be in Oakdale Cemetery.

Friends may call Wednesday afternoon and evening at the funeral home.

Guilford

lem attempted to get water from the lake in 1951 but was refused permission at that time. Gause appointed Lloyd Firth, Joseph Yovanovic and Robert Greenawald to draft bylaws for the organization for adoption at the next meeting Jan. 2 at 8 p. m.

Wanted Overflow Water

Salem Utilities Superintendent William Thompson said today that the city has requested just the overflow water and does not intend to pump directly from the lake at any other time.

"I don't know if the people out there are mad at Salem for some reason or if they think that by taking the excess water we will hurt them," he said, apparently surprised that opposition to the move has arisen.

The water level of the lake is normally dropped four to seven feet every fall to protect the dam and private docks from ice damage. "The only water we want, is what they normally dump 'down the drain,'" Thompson said.

The city's move to get water from Guilford came in the wake of the long summer drought, but even then, Thompson said, Salem was never in any real danger of water shortage.

Thompson said he has heard nothing from the state as yet about the request, and at a meeting of the Utilities Commission last night it was decided to send another letter to see if any decision has been reached.

Since the water level of the lake is usually dropped in November, and has not been done to date this year, residents at Guilford feel the state may be about to grant Salem's request.

Franklin Township Trustees Convene

Franklin Township trustees paid bills totaling $519.64 when they met Monday at the township hall.

In other action, the trustees decided to continue to store slag for use a future time. The next meeting will be Dec. 18.

Two new Royal Empress typewriters from the Fithian Typewriter Service of Salem.

Bates Succeeds Ludwig As Head Of 'Big 8' League

Beman G. Ludwig of Salem turned in his resignation as president of the Ohio Big 8 Basketball Conference during a dinner meeting of the league at the Lape Hotel Monday night.

Steubenville High School Principal George D. Bates was advanced from his vice president's post in the league to succeed Ludwig.

The 38 persons representing Salem, Niles, Alliance, Warren, Canton McKinley, East Liverpool, Steubenville and Massillon voted to give the former Salem High principal a lifetime pass to all Big 8 games.

The next meeting schedule by the league is set for April 6, when the all-star basketball team will be chosen.

Butler Trustees Set For Winter

Winter equipment in Butler Township is ready for use, according to reports given when the township trustees met Monday at the Butler Township House, with Donald Cameron presiding.

Cameron reported that the Allied Highway Equipment Co. was scheduled to install a new ash spreader on the township truck today.

Albert Althouse reported that he has received blades for the snowplow and has also had new tires mounted on the township truck. He stated that ashes and salt have been received for ice control of roads and that the chains for the grader have arrived.

William Hoopes reported that brush along roads in his district has been cut.

A report of a cash balance of $11,827.06 on Dec. 1 was given. The trustees authorized payment of $3,007.68 in bills.

A meeting of the trustees and county commissioners will be held at 10 a.m. Thursday at the courthouse in Lisbon to discuss the narrow bridge on Damascus-Georgetown Rd.

Next regular meeting is Dec. 16.

—Four chairmen of congressional committees got telephone requests from Johnson that they report any evidence of waste, duplication of effort and over-staffing in the military establishment.

Johnson seems determined to hold his first budget, for the 1965 fiscal year that begins July 1, below $100 billion. He may even try to cut below the $98.9 billion figure proposed by Kennedy for fiscal 1964.

Hanoverton To Get New Decorations

HANOVERTON — Colored electric lights Saturday will add to the snowy, pre-Christmas scene when Harvey Trough, street commissioner, and his helpers string up new decorations.

They replace old lights which have been in use for several years.

COMMISSIONERS MEET

Columbiana County commissioners Monday, authorized the payment of $52 to the city of Wellsville for 104 dogs destroyed there during November.

The commissioners also visited the County Home. Their next regular meeting will be Thursday.

Snow, Rain Helps Drouth In District

With December off to a snowy start, District Weather Observer Edwin Copeland pointed out today that the rain and snow of last Friday (Nov. 29) was the greatest measurement since last March 19. It totaled 1.32 inches of rainfall, he said, giving some idea of the prolonged drouth of the past summer.

Much more moisture is needed, the observer pointed out, and small grain crops planted by area farmers the last of September and early October finally came up Nov. 21. "We need several warm days and more moisture to give it a better growth for the winter," he commented.

Copeland said total snow fall is five inches, compared to November's average of 2.15 inches. The rainfall was 2.28 which was just slightly above the 2.41-inch average for the month.

Last month was warmer than the normal which is 39.6 degrees. The average last month was 42.1 degrees. Sunshine was a normal 33 per cent.

New snow fell last night and more flurries are predicted by the Ohio Weather Bureau.

Official sources indicate the FBI still is working on its report. The basic document is ready, but agents Monday still were tracking down belated tips, reports and rumors to make sure that no leads were overlooked.

The report has been described as a narrative in minute detail. It was considered likely that some portions dealing with Jack Ruby might be withheld for the present, since he is facing trial for Oswald's shooting.

beat and shot Gus Georges to death in his suburban Pittsburgh home last Friday night. Georges was owner of the Pennsylvania Vending Machine Co.

Hargett said the description of one of the pair involved in the slaying fit that of Oponowicz.

Oponowicz has been sought by police and the FBI since he walked out of a Common Pleas Court room here last March while awaiting trial with two other men on charges of attempted burglary of a Cleveland Trust Co. branch bank.

Last Jan. 9 Oponowicz and three other men were arrested in Pittsburgh on charges of stealing $2,500 worth of tools from the Power Tool & Supply Co. in the city's Oakland section.

All four were ordered held for court and Oponowicz was released on bond.

Arrested with Oponowicz were Daniel A. Boscia, 41, of Carick, near Pittsburgh; Amil Dinsio, 26, of Poland, Ohio, and his brother, James, 33, of Salem, Ohio.

Both Oponowicz and the Dinsio brothers were free on bond on burglary charges in Ohio when arrested in Pittsburgh.

Hanoverton Council Enacts Curfew Law

HANOVERTON — There'll be no more childhood loitering in late hours of evening or in wee morning hours in Hanoverton any more.

Council Monday night, hoping to eliminate a current rash of teenage troubles, squelched late-hour nighttime shenanigans by installing a curfew that orders all youths 18 and under off the streets and into their homes by 11 p.m. Sundays through Thursdays and by midnight on Fridays and Saturdays.

Children have a half-hour to scamper home after the curfew, announced by the fire siren, sounds.

Council, which earlier had hesitated to pass the measure due to apparent misunderstanding by a member, passed it last night as an emergency action.

Voting "yes" were councilmen Arthur Kibler, Herman Ziegler, William McGranahan, J. A. Marquis, and Mervin McKarns.

The curfew, which will be announced by one blast of the siren, was called a "lever of enforcement", a "power of protection to clamp down on mischievous children", and a method of "controlling trouble-making young folks from the outside" (outside Hanoverton) by councilmen.

Law enforcement officials say most of the village's troubles, including vandalism, theft, etc., have been instigated by youths from surrounding areas, not from the village.

The approved ordinance drawn up by acting solicitor Duane Yeagley, is less stringent than the earlier drafted one. Originally, the measure set the respective hours at 10 and 11 p.m., making special provisions for youths 16 and under and those 16-18.

Hanoverton will have a new village solicitor in 1964 since Atty. Warren Bettis, a member of Gov. Rhodes' Public Utilities Commission, reportedly will not be available to continue his solicitor's duties. Atty. Yeagley has been acting solicitor since Bettis' appointment to the state office and it is expected Bettis' partner-in-law will be named by Council in January.

Sewer Work Finished

Street commissioner Harvey Trough reported to Council that the sewer construction on Route 30 has been completed. He asked the body for permission to purchase two rolls of snow fence and 10 posts to be erected in a drift-prone spot just west of the Harold McGee property.

Council also voted to grant a month of rent-free use of Town Hall's first floor to Herman Ziegler, who operates a shoe store there. Ziegler was granted the favor because he provides upkeep of the building.

The group also agreed to purchase a tank and pitcher pump for the civic building.

Present at the session was Gerald Foster, a representative of the Ohio Fuel Gas Co., who informed councilmen that village gas rates and service would not be affected by the change of the company's name to Columbiana Gas Co. of Ohio Inc. The rates established recently are effective until April 2, 1965.

Council warned that it is illegal for persons to solicit from door-to-door in Hanoverton without a permit. The warning stemmed from the recent arrest of a licenseless magazine salesman by Deputy Marshal Roy Painter.

Besides the appointment and installation of a new solicitor at the next regular meeting Jan. 6, officers newly elected or re-elected will be installed. These include George Wilson, who last month won his first election to the mayorship after he filled out the unexpired term of the late Howard Hart, James J. Wilson, new clerk succeeding Lee Bowman who declined to seek the post, and councilmen Walter Blythe and Mervin McKarns.

Yule Conclusions

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Jumping to Christmas conclusions: Now that Santa Claus is on the horizon, the tidy people who mailed their Christmas cards last October have a problem.

The stores are so thronged with yuletide shoppers they are unable to buy their Easter egg dyes now.

If the young lady can't tell you from Adam all the rest of the year, but right now she gives you a dimpling smile everytime you come near, mark her off your list. She's just another selfish dame seeing how many male dopes she can get to spring with Christmas gifts—so she can brag about them to her girl friends.

Women and show business folks tinkle more coins into the cups of blind beggars than anybody.

The only Christmas carols most people can sing are those they learned as children. Not one out of 10 men ever learns the words to a new carol after the age of 40.

No matter how many lads there were in a large family, Santa usually left them a total of only one sled—although each of the daughters got her own doll to cherish.

A man usually gets the most mufflers for Christmas the month before he retires and moves to Florida.

A philosopher is a husband who realizes early in marriage that, no matter how much care he shows in selecting the family Yule tree, when he lugs it home in triumph his wife, after inspecting it critically, will observe, "It's nice—but it has a wrong side to it."

No husband in history has been able to buy a tree his wife couldn't find had a wrong side. The wise husband learns to bring his wife along on this chore and let her do the choosing.

The tinsel masterpieces today somehow lack the beauty of the trees we recall from our youth. Remember what fun it was to hang them with home-threaded garlands of red cranberries and white popcorn, and crown them with a hand-scissored cardboard star covered with tinfoil?

Science has accomplished many wonders, but one of the things it hasn't been able to do can't manage to break within a minute and 37 seconds.

People who say "I hate Christmas" usually don't have much love for anything else either.

The Doctor Says

By Dr. WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT
Health Questions, Answers

Dr. Brandstadt

Q—You said in one of your repaired. But the process can be stopped to prevent further damage. Some form of penicillin is usually used. The earlier the treatment is applied the better the results.

Q—A doctor told me 28 years ago I had syphilis although I was not tested for it until 15 years later. At that time the tests were negative. Could I be infected now?

A—No responsible doctor would make a diagnosis of syphilis

without confirming laboratory tests. You do not say what treatment you took, but it is unlikely that your doctor would have cured you with his methods.

Penicillin was not available in those days and, although cure was possible, the treatment was long and tedious. Fortunately most doctors are careful and painstaking and practice the best medicine consistent with the times.

Since your tests show that you don't have syphilis now, there is a better than average chance that you did not have it 28 years ago. The initial lesion, the chancre, is not painful and does not itch.

Q—When I was overseas I had 40 shots of penicillin for syphilis and was pronounced cured but my blood test still comes back positive. What is the reason and what should I do?

A—Yours is a relatively common but troublesome problem. If you had 40 injections of penicillin and were pronounced cured (most cures require much less penicillin), it is safe to say you were cured.

In a few persons a cure fails to cause a return of a negative blood test. With this fact established, your best course is to stop worrying as long as you don't expose yourself to reinfection.

A—Because syphilis is transmitted by such contact as kissing or sexual intercourse and not through food or eating utensils, there would be no point in singling out food handlers for blood testing.

All public health agencies are interested in case finding but mass blood testing of teen-agers or any other group is not as effective as finding those who have had intimate contact with known cases.

A physician making a physical examination of a person with early syphilis may find lesions that strongly suggest syphilis, but he should confirm his suspicions with a blood test or other laboratory findings.

Q—Is syphilis in the late stages curable?

A—In late syphilis, which may affect the bones, heart, brain and other organs, tissues that are destroyed cannot be

Salem Opens At Home With Columbus East Saturday

Quakers To Drill Akron East Today

A scrimmage today against Akron East will be Salem's last outside drill as Coach John Cabas starts polishing up the Red and Black offense and defense for the invasion of defending state champion Columbus East Saturday night.

The Tigers, touted again as one of the state's powerhouses, have five returning lettermen, including Ed Waller, 6-4 senior center.

Seniors Jim Brown, 6-3 forward; Walter Byers, 6-0 forward; and Dick Tanner, 5-9 guard; and sophomore Gil Matlows, 6-0 guard, are probable starters.

Waller was a second team All-Ohio choice last year. Several of the Tigers' players are up from a championship reserve team of last season.

TO OPEN THE 1962-63 campaign, Columbus knocked off Salem here 75-49, then went on to chalk up a 25-1 mark. The Tigers open their 1963-64 season at Wheatstone Friday.

The Salem mentor was pleased with the Farrell workout here over the weekend, and was particularly satisfied with the Quakers' showing in the preview, especially against Warren Harding.

Cabas seemed anxious to point out the "hustle and desire" the sophomores showed while seeing limited action in two contests during the Ohio Big 8 game program. Salem edged Niles 15-14 and Warren 7-6.

DO YOU THINK—

Navy Voted 2nd; Pitt Picked 4th

Texas Keeps No. 1 Position In Next To Last AP Survey

By JIM BECKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Texas had a much easier time of it in The Associated Press poll than it had on the field against Texas A&M in its finale.

The Longhorns poked the winning touchdown across with little more than a minute to spare against the Aggies on Thanksgiving for a 15-13 decision.

The squeaker preserved a 10-0 season, and the No. 1 spot in the next to last Associated Press poll of the season. The final vote will be taken next week, with the national championship to the winner.

The Texas poll margin was convincing enough to make it unlikely that even a great performance by No. 2 Navy against Army on Saturday will dislodge the Longhorns. Navy has an 8-1 record.

Texas drew 42 first-place votes from the 51 sports writers and broadcasters on the special AP panel. Navy got eight and Pitt the other one.

On the usual 10-9-8-etc. voting basis, Texas had 485 points to Navy's 432.

Below the top two, the personnel was the same but the rankings were shuffled.

Illinois jumped from eighth to third with 356 points, on its 13-0 defeat of Michigan State for the Big Ten title and Rose Bowl assignment.

Pitt, 31-20 winner over Miami, moved up a notch to fourth. Auburn, 10-8 victor over Alabama, jumped from ninth to fifth. Big Eight champion Nebraska went from seventh to No. 6.

Mississippi dropped from third to No. 7 after a 10-10 tie with Mississippi State.

Oklahoma climbed from 10th to No. 8, after beating Oklahoma State 34-10.

Alabama fell from sixth to No. 9, and Michigan State from fourth to No. 10.

Besides Navy's date with Army, Alabama has a game left with Miami, Fla., Dec. 14. The other eight teams have completed their seasons.

The Top Ten, with season records and points:

	W	L	T	Pts.
Texas	10	0	0	485
Navy	8	1	0	432
Illinois	7	1	1	356
Pittsburgh	8	1	0	335
Auburn	9	1	0	226
Nebraska	9	1	0	217
Mississippi	7	0	2	168
Oklahoma	8	2	0	102
Alabama	7	2	0	72
Michigan State	6	2	1	54

Tribe Trades Latman To Angels For Wagner; Braves Sell Taylor

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Convinced their future lies in defense and pitching, the Los Angeles Angels made their first move in that direction by trading power hitter Leon Wagner to the Cleveland Indians for pitcher Barry Latman and another player to be named at a later date.

It was the first major trade completed at the annual winter baseball meetings which got underway Monday when the majors drafted a record 63 players at a cost of $691,000.

In the only other transaction, the New York Mets purchased Bob Taylor from Milwaukee. The 24-year-old catcher-outfielder was paid a $100,000 bonus by the Braves when he signed his first professional contract in 1957.

Wagner, 29, hit 63 home runs for the Angels in the last two years, batting .291 in 1963. Latman, 27, was 7-12 with the Indians last season.

The Angels were the busiest club in the draft business. They shelled out $99,000 for six players, three veterans at $25,000 each and three first year players at $8,000 apiece. Three of the six were pitchers including Danny Rivas, a left-hander who won 13 and lost seven at Tacoma and Bill Kelso, 14-7 at Salem.

Despite the record number of players drafted—eleven 5,000 four-year veterans and fifty-two $8,000 first year kids—there were few names easily recognizable to fans. The best known were three pitchers, Howie Kopitz, Jim Owens and Bill Fischer.

280 Players Are Selected During 21-Hour NFL Draft

CHICAGO (AP)—The National Football League labored 21 hours and 43 minutes Monday and today and selected 280 college players in the longest continuous draft session in its history.

The marathon started at 9:04 a.m. (CST) Monday and ended at 6:47 a.m. (CST) today.

Five clubs that remained home and conducted their business by phone or teletype messages to a representative on the floor, while the others sat on their hands. There were complaints and a threat of legislation to avoid such marathons in the future.

It took the league a record eight hours and eight minutes to work its way through the first round selections of the 14 clubs.

Several signings were announced almost simultaneously with the drafts, making it obvious that the clubs were checking the boys to be sure they were interested in playing NFL ball before wasting a turn. The teams were very much aware of the draft by the rival American Football League held Saturday in New York.

Dallas used up two hours and 39 minutes before settling on Scott Appleton, 235-pound tackle of Texas' top ranked Longhorns. Baltimore delayed about two hours before picking Marv

Woodson, an Indiana halfback, and then announced his signing later in the day.

Dave Parks, a 193-pound end from Texas Tech, was the first player drafted by the San Francisco 49ers who had first choice because they were last in the combined conference standings after Sunday's games.

Bob Brown, 269 pound guard from Nebraska's Orange Bowl-bound Cornhuskers, was taken by Philadelphia and Charley Taylor, a strong running back from Arizona State, was picked by Washington before the session ran into the Dallas log jam.

The Minnesota Vikings who lost their first three picks to the AFL last year, quickly signed their No. 1 and No. 2 selections, tackle Carl Eller of Minnesota and end Hal Bedsole of Southern California.

Other early signers announced were Woodson by Baltimore, tackle Dick Evey of Tennessee by the Chicago Bears, tackle Herchel Turner of Kentucky by St. Louis and quarterback Munson by the Rams.

Warren's Warfield Is Browns' First Choice At NFL Draft

CHICAGO (AP) — Paul Warfield, Ohio State offensive and defensive halfback, talked terms with the Cleveland Browns Monday night after the National Football League club made him its No. 1 draft choice.

The former Warren High School star was plucked by the Browns, who picked 11th in Monday's NFL draft.

"He headed our list of defensive backfield prospects," said Coach Blanton Collier.

Warfield was Buffalo's fourth-round choice in the American Football League draft Sunday.

Only three rounds of the NFL draft had been completed by early today. The Browns picked Bill Traux, a Louisiana State end, in the second round. Their third-round choice was surrendered to the Los Angeles Rams.

The tempo began to pick up later. The Browns selected Don Shackelford, University of Pacific tackle, in the fourth round; Dick Klein, Wichita Tackle, fifth; traded to Dallas, sixth; Louisiana end, seventh Leroy Kelly, Morgan State back, eighth; John Briscoe, Arizona Linebacker, Ninth; Dick Van Raaphorst, Ohio State place-kicker, 10th; Ed Versprille, Alabama back, 11th; Ed Mitchell, Southern University tackle, 12th Bob Meehan, Syracuse guard, 13th; Terry Sieg, Virginia back, 14th; John Houtman, Michigan Southern University end, 16th; Larry Bartolameolli, Western Michigan tackle, 17th; Sherman Lewis, Michigan State halfback, 19th; Dave Archer, Syracuse Tackle, 20th.

Collier divided his concern Monday between the draft and preparations for the Browns' game in Detroit Sunday. Cleveland goes into that semifinal game of the season tied with the New York Giants for first place in the Eastern Division.

Both the St. Louis Cardinals and Pittsburgh Steelers, deadlocked for the third spot, also remain in the race for the division title.

Warfield is 6-foot-1 and weighs 190 pounds. A sprinter on the Buckeyes' track team, he may be the fastest man trying out for the Browns in 1964.

"We are thinking of him primarily as a defensive back," said Collier. "We feel we need more speed there. He could play either the corner back or at safety."

Collier didn't rule out Warfield as a pass receiver. Warfield's extreme speed (9-6 seconds in the 100-yard dash) gives him potential in this department although Ohio State didn't utilize him in the role.

Cleveland representatives at the draft meeting included, besides Collier, talent scout Paul Bixler, President Art Modell and Harold Sauerbrey, general manager.

The Los Angeles Angels had their best luck last season against Baltimore and Minnesota. They split 18 games with each rival.

THE DEPENDABLES: SUCCESS CARS OF '64

We've got a sporty proposition for you

If you're after a little more action than you've been accustomed to getting in the low-price field, look what we've got for you. The '64 Dodge Polara 2-door hardtop, a quick moving automobile that doesn't look, ride, or feel like any low-priced car you've ever tried before. Luxury is standard equipment on this one. The interior, for instance, is all-vinyl. The front seat has extra deep foam padding and features a comfort-providing flip-down center armrest at no extra cost. The floor is completely carpeted. And under the hood? A standard V8 (318 cu. in.) with more muscle than is common in other low-price cars. Price? Right with cars like Ford and Chevy. Here's our proposition—why buy just any low-priced car, when you can step up to Dodge and a lot more automobile. Are people taking us up on it? Dodge's sales increase is more than four times that of the industry. People know a good thing when they see it. See it at your Dodge Dealers.

Kentucky Romps 107-91; Michigan Rolls

Loyola Rips North Dakota 92-54; Davidson Triumphs

By BOB GREEN

Associated Press Sports Writer

It's not particularly unusual or disturbing when a college basketball team looks a little on the ragged side in its season opener.

But when a team looks ragged throughout and still rips its opponent by a margin of 38 points that's both unusual and disturbing.

Coach George Ireland's Chicago Loyola Ramblers opened their season Monday night with a firm declaration that they're dead serious about repeating as national champions.

With four starters returning from the team that upset Cincinnati in the NCAA final and compiled a 29-2 record last season, the Ramblers romped over North Dakota 92-54 and, according to the game report "looked ragged throughout."

The Ramblers, ranked at the top of The Associated Press' pre-season poll, simply overwhelmed the visitors in the feature game on a heavy program.

The other ranked teams in action also came through on schedule with only a couple of upsets spoiling things for the form players. Probably the foremost among those was the 66-53 surprise Davidson popped on Wake Forest and State College of Iowa's 58-54 edge over Iowa State.

Otherwise, the favorites had things pretty much their own way. Fifth-ranked Wichita beat

State pulled out a tough 74-68 decision over Butler, No. 8 Michigan romped 73-47 against Tulane, No. 9 Kentucky ran up its highest total in four years in a 107-91 crushing of Texas Tech and No. 10 Oregon State ripped Washington State 80-66 in a game that had been postponed from the weekend. Big seven-foot Mel Counts tossed in 38 points for the Bears.

In some of the other major games, Big Ten hopeful Iowa crushed South Dakota 85-66, Southwest Conference defending champ Texas whipped Howard Payne 89-58, Southeastern contender Vanderbilt clubbed Rice 82-68 and SEC defending champ Mississippi State overwhelmed Louisiana Tech 105-61.

Class 'A' All-Star Football Squad Chosen; Dover Coach Honored

By HAL PARIS

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An impressive array of high school gridirers, boasting speed, scoring punch and defensive prowess, make up The Associated Press' Class A All-Ohio high school football team.

Steve Budnick of Millersport and Larry Brown of Marion Catholic head the glittering 22-man squad, selected by coaches, sports writers, sportscasters and officials.

Budnick, a rugged 6-foot, 188-pound fullback, is the small school back of the year. Brown, a 5-11, 220-pound tackle, won accolades as the lineman of the year.

Dover St. Joseph, Marion Catholic, Baltimore Liberty-Union and Tiltonsville Warren Consolidated dominated the selections as each school landed two players on the dream team.

Class A coach of the year honors went to Lawrence (Art) Teynor, a 38-year-old native of Bucyrus who guided Dover St. Joseph to a 9-0-1 mark.

Teynor, a graduate of Wichita and a coach for 12 years, was overwhelmed by his selection.

"It's an extreme honor and I am grateful to all who had a part in it," he said. "The year 1963 will always stand out in my lifetime."

Teynor, who has three children, posted a perfect 9-0 season in 1961 and his five-year record at Dover stands at 30-16-3.

Two of his players were named to the first offensive unit. They are Mike Fearon, a guard, and halfback Roger Lamers, a brilliant student who is president of his senior class.

Joe Yager of Frankfort, last year's back of the year, missed several games because of injuries but garnered enough votes for honorable mention.

Best back Budnick tallied 192 points this season and registered 540 points during his four-year career.

Brown and Andy Donahue of Tiltonsville Warren Consolidated were repeaters from last year's squad. Donahue is a fine defensive tackle who was runnerup to Brown in lineman of the year balloting.

Rounding out the first team are quarterback Ed Wilson of Pataskala Watkins Memorial; halfback Steve Chaney of Marion Catholic; ends Bob Holmes of Tiltonsville and Dean Demattio of Midvale; tackles Tom McCray of Summit Station Licking Heights and George Shreyer of Baltimore Liberty-Union; guard John Fish of Norwalk St. Paul and center Gus Ross of West Alexandria.

Two standouts who made it on defense are Larry Eye of Atwater and John DeBrosse of Piqua Catholic.

Eye's school won only one game this year but that one victory shattered a 30-game losing streak. Eye was brilliant all year at end, though, and in one game blocked two punts and three conversion tries.

DeBrosse, chosen as a safetyman, is a versatile performer who completed 40 touchdown passes in four years.

In the battle for coaching honors, Bob Irwin of Norwalk St. Paul finished second with Larry Lintne of Pataskala Watkins Memorial third. Others high in the voting were Joe Rich of Mineral Ridge and George Murphy of Millersport.

LINEBACKERS: Tom Bains, Mount Sterling Plains; Gallo-way Morgan, Vanlue; Tom McCain, Smithfield; John Swickrath, Spencerville; Glen Culbertson, North Robinson Colonel Crawford.

North Dakota, rated the best lineman in the North Central Conference, at tackles; Ralph Bauman of Puget Sound and Greg Van Orden of Appalachian at the guards with Dick Dean of Depauw at center. Dean is rated the best center in Indiana, despite such nearby major teams at Notre Dame, Indiana and Purdue.

The players on the forward wall average 6-1, weigh 208 pounds to the man and are just over 21 years of age. Cherry is the team's tallest at just a fraction over 6-4 and also the lightest at 187 pounds. Graham, whose Massachusetts team tied Harvard and beat all the remainder of its opponents, is the heaviest at 234 while Bauman is the shortest at 5-10.

The backfield also averages 6-2 and 21 years of age but displaces only 192 pounds on the average.

Bork completed his collegiate career holding 14 national passing records and responsible for two team marks. During Northern Illinois' nine straight victories during the regular season he completed 244 of 374 aerial attempts for 32 touchdowns and 3,077 yards, an average of 34.9 yards a game. All are records.

During his career he threw 902 times and hit his target on 577 of those occasions. These also are records.

Social Events In Lisbon Area

By ETTA MAE ALEXANDER

The first Sunday of Advent, the beginning of the Christmas season, was observed by the members of St. Jacob's United Church of Christ Sunday following the morning worship service.

One hundred and twenty-five persons attended the covered dinner, preceding the family project, "Carrying Out Christmas Traditions".

Group singing of Christmas Wilhelm, with Mrs. Richard Tullis, was led by Mrs. Howard Tullis, accompanist.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Frantz and Mr. and Mrs. Merle McPherson presented a skit, "Taking Cheer to the Shut-ins with Visits and Gifts." Another skit, "A Family Affair," was presented by Mrs. Oland Baker, her children, Brent, Neil and Colleen and Mrs. Mary Karns.

The Rev. and Mrs. William Ring and children, Lynn and Jeffrey, presided at the candle-lighting ceremony.

Mrs. Ferguson served as general chairman of the arrangements. Mrs. George N. Smith was chairman of the kitchen committee.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Nace and children, Mike, Chris and Beth, of Marion, Ind., have returned to their home after spending the past weekend with his mother, Mrs. George M. Nace Sr. of E. Lincoln Way. Joining their brother and mother for Thanksgiving were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Vanaman and children, Jim, Merri and John, of Coshocton, and Mr. and Mrs. George M. Nace Jr. and children, Dyke and Heidi, of North Park Place.

Representing Iva Chapter, O.E.S. at the installation of officers of Hadassah Chapter of Massillon Friday evening were Mr. and Mrs. Glen Conn, worthy matron and patron.

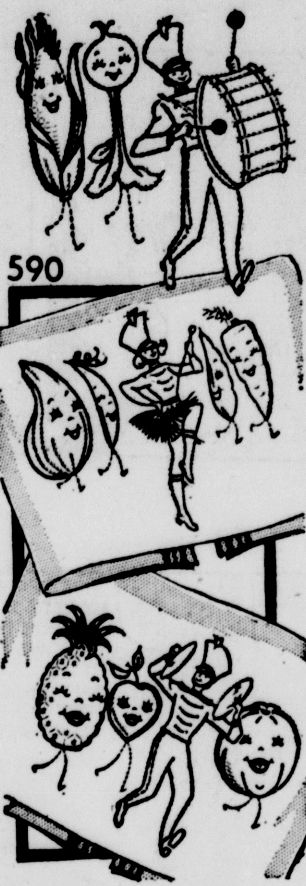

Mr. Conn, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cope and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lipp, attended the Home-worth Chapter installation Saturday evening.

Mrs. H. C. Leonard of Morris St. who visited the past two weeks with her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. William N. Hanahan of Akron, returned home Sunday.

TO REPRESENT OHIO

CHICAGO (AP)—A Washington Court House, Ohio, girl was to represent the Buckeye State today at the National Press Review of the 4-H Club Congress. Dona Dill, 18, was one of the farm girl fashion stylists from 50 states and Puerto Rico who were to parade their creations in the competition.

History Today

By The Associated Press
Today is Tuesday, Dec. 3, the 337th day of 1963. There are 28 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1833, Oberlin Institute in Ohio was opened with an enrollment of 29 men and 15 women as students. It was the first fully coeducational college in the United States.

On this date: In 1557, the first covenant toward organization of the Presbyterian Church was signed in Edinburgh, Scotland.

In 1696, King William III of England issued an order for the introduction of the new version of the Psalms.

In 1925, the first jazz piano concerto in musical history was introduced in New York City when George Gershwin introduced the Concerto in F at Carnegie Hall.

In 1954, the British Labor party urged Winston Churchill to resign as prime minister.

DEAR HELOISE: A while back you mentioned making a Heloise mat out of an old bath mat. You told mother to keep this on the kitchen floor to clean up around sink. Well, Mom made one and she has been calling it her "Heloise."

MOTHER'S "JOHNNY THOMPSON." DEAR READERS: This mat

cannot be bought. You'll have to make them yourself. They are so simple to make I'm sure anyone can do it (I did!). I think once you use one, you will never be without it again. Take any old chenille bath mat and double it over so that the chenille will be on both sides (bottom and top).

Lay a large dinner plate or a turkey platter on top. Take a crayon and trace around the edges of the plate for a pattern. Use your scissors and cut out your two circles.

Sew these two pieces together (back-to-back) on your sewing machine or by hand. (I double stitched mine twice around the edges to give it body.)

Later, I found these mats so serviceable that I bought new pieces of chenille rugs, removing the fringe from the edges and stitching it around the outside of the mats. They are absolutely adorable and make lovely gifts.

BE SURE to make these mats no larger than 12 or 14 inches. If you do, you will be defeating the purpose.

Throw this mat on your kitchen floor and LEAVE IT THERE...

You will find it a dandy thing when Johnny spills the ice tray or drops something on your clean kitchen floor. Just take your foot and push the "Heloise mat" across the spills and save that stooping over!

The mat is so small that it takes practically no room in your washing machine each week.

Now, if you are real smart, as long as you are making one, you will make two... one to keep in front of your refrigerator and the other in front of your sink. Use the one in front of the sink to stand on (real easy on your back) and pick up those water drips when you wash dishes.

Kick one or the other in front of your stove when frying bacon or meats. Sure saves mopping linoleum later. Grease spatters in such a fine spray when we fry that we can't even see it.

AND, GALS, you are wrong... if you think you can get by with only one side chenille. It's the bottom layer of the chenille that wipes up the spills and shines the wax on the floor each time this mat is scooted across the floor with your foot!

Hints From

Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE

Those Heloise mats are wonderful in the bathroom too. Just WHY should we wash a great big bath mat and take up space in our washing machine each week when we can use something smaller? Besides, whose feet are so big that they even need a two, or three foot bath mat?

One good thing about making the mats the same on both sides, is that when one side gets soiled it can be turned over in an emergency... and just WHO doesn't have emergencies?

So... go make yourself one of these cute mats. You will love them. I do.

HELOISE

DEAR HELOISE: When addressing Christmas cards and it comes time to seal those envelopes—did you know that you could take an ice cube and use it to moisten the glue on the envelope?

You can either hold the ice cube with a piece of cloth and run it over the glue on the envelope or place the ice cube on a sponge and run the envelope over the cube.

FRANK CLOUD.

DEAR HELOISE: If folks who wear glasses will wash them in soapy water and then dry them without rinsing, their glasses will not fog when coming out of the cold into a warm room, or when going into the kitchen going into the kitchen where the steam from cooking hits them.

MRS. PEL.

DEAR HELOISE: Don't discard that old scrubbing brush. Drive a nail, or place a cup hook into the woodwork frame of your back door. Put this about 24 inches from the floor so it will not look unsightly. Hang the scrubbing brush on the hook. It is exceptionally handy for cleaning mud from shoes and overshoes. Sure saves carpets.

RUTH.

The Granges

Butler Has Program

Robert Walton, master, presided when Butler Grange met recently. A donation was made to Columbiana County Department of Welfare for the Christmas gift fund.

A social committee was appointed for January and February, consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Whinery, Mr. and Mrs. George Walton and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Hardgrove, Sr. Plans were made for the annual oyster supper to be held at 7 p.m. Saturday at the hall.

A theme of "We Give Thanks" was presented by the juvenile grange with a setting of a miniature church, an open Bible, overflowing food basket and candlelight on black velvet.

Scotty Mercer recited a poem, "Welcome." A "turkey" play and song were given by Charlotte Whinery. Martha Cooper, Jim Voytek and Joan Wood. A reading, "Thanksgiving," was given by Wendy Conser. The entire group performed an exercise on Thanksgiving.

A reading, "Specific Reasons for Thanks," was given by Mrs. Hedy Voytek. Mrs. Florence Ward offered prayer, "Our Nation, Leaders and Countrymen." Lunch was served by the social committee, Mrs. Wilbur Wood, Miss Cindy Whinery and Richard Mercer.

A Christmas gift exchange will be held at the next meeting Dec. 11. Women are asked to bring Christmas cookies and the recipe for exchange. A treat will be furnished by the trustees.

The Christmas program will be given by the junior grangers and home economics committee.

3 Buildings Are Destroyed By Blaze

MARION, Ohio (AP)—Nearly 70 firemen worked into the early morning hours today to control a blaze which at one point threatened an entire block of buildings in nearby Prospect.

The blaze destroyed a partially inhabited apartment building and two taverns and threatened to destroy a paint store, officials said.

Prospect Fire Chief Keenan Hanley said the blaze began in an unoccupied third story room above the Sportsman Grill at Water and Elm Streets.

Cause of the blaze was undetermined. No injuries were reported.

The family of John Hamilton, 45, owner of the Sportsman Grill, escaped unharmed from the second floor apartment. Only Mrs. Hamilton and a 13-year-old son, Thomas, were in the apartment. The father was away on a hunting trip, firemen said.

Flames also destroyed Ritt's Cafe next door to the Sportsman Grill.

The fire broke out shortly after 9 o'clock Monday night. Aid was received from the Richmond, Waldo, Pleasant, Radner, Greencamp and Marion fire departments and a Civil Defense unit from Union County.

Damage was not estimated immediately.

EX-LEGISLATOR DIES

CLEVELAND (AP)—William M. Boyd, 64, a former real estate broker here and a veteran of 16 years in the Ohio Legislature, died Monday at his home in Phoenix, Ariz. He moved to Phoenix after retiring from business in 1953.

Boyd served as a state representative from Cuyahoga County from 1933 to 1936. He then was elected a state senator, serving until 1946. He was a Democrat.

With a GAS Dryer

you could dry all these pajamas for about a penny's worth of GAS!

About a penny's worth of Gas dries any average load of clothes faster, fresher, fluffier. No overdrying, either. Gentle Gas heat blows moisture away, so everything comes out softer, smoother, more wrinkle-free. Colors stay bright and fabrics stay perky.

A Gas Dryer costs less to install... less to maintain. That means added savings! And the latest models have a full range of drying temperatures and time cycles for every type of fabric. See them at your Gas Appliance Dealer's. Tomorrow, maybe?
